

John DeBoer

- N 1. Comedian. 2. One who has made mistakes and is determined to repeat the fun ones.

It has been said, there are only two ways you can go in life after making a mistake. Learn from it and move on or don't learn from it and stay where you are. John DeBoer has chosen a third route: Write a joke about it and share it with the masses. His nerve-hitting show flows from the devious side of childhood to the never-ending pressures of our times.

His twisted observations of life and the world around us have earned John a reputation as one of the most consistently strong acts wherever he goes.

Watching John on stage takes the audience on a roller coaster of seeing their own blunders or faux pas', and then being compelled to laugh at them. Falling somewhere between "The Next John DeBoer of Comedy", and "the best comedy for your money", he takes us on a ride we've all been on, yet somehow failed to see the humor in the first time through.

Having appeared at comedy clubs, corporate events, colleges, three federal penitentiaries, the Daytona 500 Experience, as well as on Comedy Central, XM-Sirius Satellite Radio, and in national TV commercials, with a brief (yet heartwarming) shot on Last Comic Standing, John DeBoer might be the funniest comedian you never heard of.
